Call for Postgraduate Student Conference Funding Applications

RADMA has issued two open calls for proposals under its Postgraduate Student Conference Funding Programme: (1) up to £500 for those students presenting a paper and (2) up to £250 for attendance only. The awards provide support to talented mid-study Masters and PhD students to attend a conference relevant to their study. Candidates must be undertaking a Masters or PhD within the research and development management discipline at a UK university. The award will cover costs related to attending the conference, specifically conference fees, travel, subsistence and accommodation.

Applications are welcome to attend conferences across the breadth of the research and development management discipline (and research, technology and innovation management). RADMA particularly encourages applications to conferences that explore important relevant issues or further understanding in the following areas:

1. Management of scientific and technological activity
2. Research development, product design and innovation
3. Strategy formulation and human resources
4. Management of technology and policy
